

BridgePal / Scorebridge Notes

Currently BridgePals are not integrated into Scorebridge but you can run them as Bridgemate. If you have Bridgemate installed on your PC, make sure you first rename BMPro.exe to something else.

Then create a new event and attempt to start wireless scoring. Scorebridge displays the following:

"Are you using Bridgemate II?" Click on Yes.

"The program is not installed in the standard location. Normally Scorebridge will launch wireless control program after you start a new event. You should not set a wireless event unless you have installed it. Are you sure you want to allow Wireless Events?" Click on Yes.

"In the Browse box that follows, please show Scorebridge where you installed the program. Look for the file bmpro.exe inside the folder. Then click the Open button."

You don't need to look for bmpro.exe as suggested in the message, but select c:\BridgePal\BridgePal.exe.
